MEET A PRODUCER: MICRO ACRES Airdrie

With 15 years' experience in the food service industry, Micro Acres owners David & Kirstin Barchard have always had the privilege of serving others amazingly fresh and local products. However, food costs for local products have gone up over the years and they want to change that. Together they desire to take that same service and attention and apply it to an incredible product that is local, healthy and fresh 365 days a year that can be delivered to tables and restaurants within hours of harvest.

AOTP: How did Micro Acres come to be?

MA: We have been in operation 4 years. What makes us different is our love for food and the culinary process. I have had the privilege of working in the food industry for years and we wanted to create a farm that would service the industry past just delivering the product requested. We want to change the culinary scene by bringing the best product in the country 365 days a year to our local scene without the inflated cost so often attributed to local produce.

AOTP: What does your operation look like now?

MA: We operate out of a 3000- sq ft commercial location servicing local restaurants, grocery stores, farmers markets, distributors and direct to sales consumers throughout Alberta.

AOTP: What is a favourite memory you have as a farmer?

MA: When we look a container of pea shoots to a family and we heard that their kids don't gravitate to green produce but their children asked when the micro delivery was coming so they could add it to their lunch.

AOTP: What products do you sell?

MA: We service over 35 different microgreens and micro herbs. We are also beginning production of year round edible flowers.

AOTP: How can restaurants and consumers purchase your products?

MA: They can reach out to us directly as we deliver directly – www.microacres.ca. If they are outside of the Calgary area, they can order through Pratts or World Wide Food.

Alberta on the Plate showcases the incredible bounty that is grown and produced across our beautiful province. Throughout the year, we celebrate and share the Alberta food story by introducing you to the people and businesses that grow, raise, create, and support the agri-food industry in Alberta. Every August during Alberta Local Food Week, Alberta on the Plate hosts a ten-day, province-wide dine around festival. Get more info at:

Morning Giggle

Just before her birthday, a wife and her husband were strolling through a mall and ended up buying an expensive espresso maker. On their way home, she felt guilty about spending so much on a luxury item. "Let's consider this my birthday present, okay?" she said.

"No way!" my husband replied. "That was too expensive - I'll get you something else."

EatingWell

This sweet, tangy treat tastes like a delicious breakfast

Jamie Vespa, M.S., RD

These lemon-blueberry oatmeal bars taste like a hearty bowl of oatmeal that you can hold in your hands. Each square is bursting with fresh blueberries and infused with lemon zest. Once you get the hang of this easy breakfast, try them with raspberries or blackberries or swap out the almonds for toasted pecans or walnuts for a different spin.

Lemon-Blueberry Oatmeal Bars (Serves 9)

Active Time: 25 minutes

Total Time: 1 hour, 35 minutes

2 cups old-fashioned rolled oats
1/2 cup chopped toasted almonds plus 2 tablespoons, divided
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup well-stirred coconut milk or low-fat milk
4 1/2 tablespoons honey
1/4 cup unsweetened applesauce
1 large egg, at room temperature
1 large egg white, at room temperature
1 tablespoon grated lemon zest
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup fresh blueberries, divided

1. Stir oats, 1/2 cup almonds, baking powder, salt and baking soda together in a large bowl. Whisk coconut milk (or low-fat milk), honey, applesauce, egg, egg white, lemon zest and vanilla in a medium bowl until well combined. Add the milk mixture to the oat mixture; stir until well combined. Fold in 2/3 cup blueberries. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.
2. Meanwhile, preheat oven to 350 F. Coat an 8-inch-square baking pan with cooking spray; line with parchment paper, leaving a 2-inch overhang on all sides.
3. Spread the mixture evenly in the prepared pan. Top with the remaining 1/3 cup blueberries and 2 tablespoons almonds, pressing gently into the surface.
4. Bake until set and edges are starting to turn golden, 30 to 35 minutes. Let cool in the pan on a wire rack for 10 minutes. Using the parchment overhangs as handles, remove from the pan and cut into nine bars using a sharp knife. Serve warm or at room temperature.

Tasty tips

To make ahead: Refrigerate in an airtight container for up to five days. Bring to room temperature or gently reheat in the microwave before serving.

People with celiac disease or gluten sensitivity should use oats that are labeled “gluten-free,” as oats are often cross-contaminated with wheat and barley.

*"We get no choice.
If we love, we grieve."*

Thomas Lynch

When someone close to us passes, the confusion and mixed emotions we feel can often become overwhelming. However, it is important to recognize that there is no standard way of experiencing loss and no right way to grieve.

"There are things that we don't want to happen but have to accept, things we don't want to know but have to learn, and people we can't live without but have to let go."

Grief can manifest itself in a range of emotions:

Shock, anger, guilt, despair, numbness. It is important to be kind to yourself and give yourself the time and care that you need to transition through the grieving process.

Coping with grief: recognize your emotions, lean on support from family and friends, talk about it, get additional help if needed, and give yourself time.
