Conservative Party Leader Launches Campaign Office in Camrose, Alberta

July 3, 2025

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CAMROSE, AB —Leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, Pierre Poilievre, launched his by-election campaign office opening in Camrose, Alberta.

Standing alongside his wife Anaida Poilievre and former MP Damien Kurek, Pierre Poilievre spoke to an enthusiastic crowd of locals who came out to celebrate the opening of the Pierre Poilievre Campaign Office in Camrose.

Pierre has been hitting the doors and touring around to meet with the hardworking people of Battle River-Crowfoot who are opposed to the industrial carbon tax, the Liberal gas powered vehicle ban and who want the government to get out of the way so that East Central Alberta and the rest of Canada can be prosperous and free.

"I want to thank Damien Kurek and the incredible team of volunteers who, from day one, have been on the ground helping me spread our message of hope and my mission to make Canada the freest country on earth," said Poilievre.

"It would be an honour to represent the people of Battle River—Crowfoot on the floor of the House of Commons, fighting for oil and gas, low taxes, free enterprise, a strong defence and respect for the West. The farmers, energy workers and soldiers of Battle River—Crowfoot feed, power and protect Canada. I will work hard and with humility to earn the support of the amazing people in this extraordinary region," said Poilievre.

Morning Giggle

The new priest is nervous about hearing confessions, so he asks an older priest to sit in on his sessions. The new priest hears a couple confessions, then the old priest asks him to step out of the confessional for a few suggestions.

The old priest suggests, "Cross your arms over your chest, and rub your chin with one hand."

The new priest tries this.

The old priest suggests, "Try saying things like, 'I see, yes, go on, and I understand. How did you feel about that?'"

The new priest says those things.

The old priest says, "Now, don't you think that's a little better than slapping your knee and saying 'No kidding?!? What happened next?'"

This versatile soup tastes great hot or chilled

Diane Rossen Worthington

Here's a soup you'll enjoy in warm weather. Mint, lettuce and peas seem made for each other. While peas are often thought of as a springtime vegetable, they are lovely in the summer, as well. I've added snow peas to sweeten and enliven the taste of the English peas.

Butter lettuce, sauteed scallions and carrot add an interesting component to the simple soup. Lettuce leaves are usually associated with salad; but here lettuce is sauteed, offering up a subtle sweetness and thickness to the soup. If you want to mix it up, consider substituting arugula, romaine or watercress instead of butter lettuce in this recipe. It will have a lovely peppery-sweet underlying flavor.

This versatile soup tastes great hot or chilled. Serve steaming hot on a cool evening as a wonderful opener for light pasta with shrimp and tomatoes. If chilled, it can precede salade nicoise on a sweltering day. A chilled mango iced tea is a nice complimentary beverage. If you want something stronger, a California or French rose will do the trick.

Minted Lettuce and Snow Pea Soup (Serves 4 to 6)

2 tablespoons olive oil
 6 scallions, white part only, finely chopped
 1 large carrot, peeled and shredded
 1 medium head butter lettuce, leaves separated
 3 tablespoons coarsely chopped fresh mint
 4 cups chicken or vegetable stock
 1/2-pound (about 1 cup) snow peas, trimmed
 1 cup shelled fresh English peas (about 1 pound unshelled) or thawed frozen petite peas
 2 tablespoons whipping cream, creme fraiche or half-and-half
 Salt and freshly ground white pepper
 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

To garnish:

1/4 cup sour cream
 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh mint
 1 tablespoon finely chopped scallion, green part only

1. In a large saucepan over medium heat, warm the olive oil. Add the scallions and carrot and saute, stirring occasionally, until slightly softened, 3 to 5 minutes.
2. Add the lettuce and saute until wilted, about 5 minutes.
3. Add the mint, chicken stock, all but a small handful of the snow peas, and the English peas (if using thawed peas, add during the last 5 minutes). Cover and simmer over low heat until the vegetables are softened, about 20 minutes.
4. In a blender or food processor, process the soup, in batches, until pureed. (You can also do this with an immersion blender right in the pot.) Return to the pan and add the cream and salt and pepper to taste. Bring to a simmer over medium-low heat and cook for about 5 minutes to blend the flavors. Add lemon juice. Taste for seasoning.
5. Slice the reserved snow peas in julienne and immerse in boiling water until slightly softened, about 1 minute. Drain, let cool, cover, and chill.
6. To serve, taste the soup for seasoning. Ladle into bowls and garnish with the sour cream, mint, scallion, and julienned snow peas. Or refrigerate for at least 4 hours or until well chilled and continue with garnishing and serving.

Advance preparation: This may be prepared 8 hours in advance through Step 5 and refrigerated until serving. If serving warm, reheat gently until it simmers.

Understanding Grief...

Grief is a normal but sometimes overwhelming emotion. It is a response to the loss of someone or something that we have formed relationship or a bond with. There are many dimensions to this emotion that have impacts on our physical body, our cognitive functions, social interactions, and our spirituality. It is normal to find yourself feeling numb and removed from daily life, unable to carry on with regular duties while saddled with the sense of loss. Grief is both a universal and a personal experience. Individual experiences of grief vary and are influenced by the nature of the loss.

Experts advise those grieving to realize they can't control the process and to prepare for varying stages of grief. Understanding why you're suffering can help, as can talking to others and trying to resolve issues that cause significant emotional pain.

Mourning is the expression of grief, occurring as a result of someone's death. It is a personal and a collective response which can vary depending on the contexts of the relationships we have.

Ceremony is a unified ritualistic event with a purpose, usually consisting of a number of human expressions such as music, spoken word, poetry, or other artistic components. The purpose of a funeral ceremony is for those who are experiencing grief to come together in a meaningful way that allows for the expression of our grief. Every ceremony is as unique as the individual whose life we are celebrating. Some ceremonies may have rich traditions that incorporate religious or spiritual elements. Other ceremonies may be very simple and only have a few components. The important thing is that grief shared is grief diminished and ceremony's that allow for people to mourn together can greatly support our path to acceptance.
