A surgeon was invited to Thanksgiving dinner at a friend's house.

The host deftly carved the turkey and said, "I'd make a pretty good surgeon, don't you think?"

Your Horoscope

by Mecca Woods

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

You might not have much energy for anything today. It may be necessary to back out of plans or avoid making any altogether.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

If you're upset with a friend, talk it out. It will be better than holding it in and trying to pretend that everything is OK.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)

Only make commitments that you truly have the time and desire to keep.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

You need a break from your busy schedule. Make plans to do something more playful or creative.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22)

Sometimes it's better to let yourself feel what you feel than trying to force yourself to be happy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Do you need to be a little more forgiving or understanding of others? Soften your approach.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

It could be easy to overwhelm yourself with too many tasks today. Prioritize what's most important and keep your to-do list for the day short.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Don't be so quick to pull the trigger on a purchase. It may be best to wait for a better deal or a better time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

If you're feeling irritable or moody, it's probably a sign that you need more rest.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

Talking to a trustworthy friend could help ease your fears or worries.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

Before you go rushing in to help others, make sure to take some time for yourself today.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

Think before you act. You might end up saving yourself a lot of trouble.

FOR TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

You're a vibrant soul. You don't hide or shrink yourself, especially not to make others feel better. You're unafraid to take up space. However, because of your kindhearted nature, you encourage others to live their lives to the fullest. You don't believe in restrictions or limitations, but honoring boundaries can help you avoid unnecessary problems. Having people in your life who can help keep you grounded is a must. This year, there could be improvements or positive developments in your home and family life. Stay close to the people you love.

THE MORNING BITE the kitchn

This 1-ingredient upgrade for baked potatoes makes them impossibly fluffy

Alexandra Foster, TheKitchn.com

There's just something about a baked potato that feels so comforting. Maybe it's the endless number of toppings you can pile on it, or the fact that potatoes were my favorite "vegetable" when I was a kid. (I've since leveled up.) When I was growing up, I ate a lot of baked potatoes — and to be honest, I mostly made them in the microwave. The first time I had a twice-baked potato, however, was at my friend's house for Friendsgiving, and I was blown away by the texture. It was everything I loved about mashed potatoes and baked potatoes in each delicious bite.

So when I came across this twice-baked potato recipe by content creator @graceelkus (she's also our former deputy food editor!) that's stuffed with cottage cheese and inspired by Martha Stewart's baked potatoes, I was instantly curious. She touted them as being "perfectly fluffy," so naturally I had to try out the recipe for myself. Here's how it went.

How to make the cottage cheese twice-baked potato

The recipe starts with Martha Stewart's baked potato cooking method. First, take a couple of Yukon Gold potatoes (as many as you'd like to make), and bake them directly on the rack of a 325-degree oven for 90 minutes. Martha opts for Yukon Gold potatoes instead of russet because of its thinner skin, which crisps up easily, and its creamy interior.

Once the potatoes are done cooking, split them down the middle and mash the inside of the potato with a fork (be sure to leave the skin intact). To each potato, add a spoonful of cottage cheese, a sprinkle of cheddar cheese, some chopped chives, and pepper to taste. Mix it all together and push it back into the potato skin, so everything is compact. Finally, sprinkle more cheddar cheese on top and bake for another 20 to 25 minutes. Top with more chives and enjoy!

My honest review

These twice-baked potatoes are relatively simple to make. The hardest part is waiting for them to cook. Once they were ready, I dug in. The interior is super-fluffy, and the cottage cheese and cheddar cheese add a delicious salty bite that, when combined with the chives, results in a sour cream and onion vibe. The potato skin on the outside provides a slightly crispy chew.

If you're not the biggest fan of cottage cheese (I'm not!), you can't really tell aside from the visual look. The texture (which I normally don't like) is masked by the light and fluffy potato interior. It's delicious, and I would definitely recommend making it as a Thanksgiving side dish or an easy game-day snack.

A few tips

Add different mix-ins: Feel free to change the flavor profile up to whatever you prefer. Swap out the chives for rosemary, or throw in some bacon bits.

Keep a close eye on your baked potato: While the suggested cooking time is 90 minutes, that may vary based on the size of your potatoes and your oven. Check them periodically to ensure they're fully cooked.

Noun

“A small group of people with shared interests or tastes.”

We are happy to invite you to be our exclusive patrons, to enjoy a shared love of organic, natural & interesting wines, Chef driven small plates, craft beer and cocktails!

Meet Chef Earl Briones

Earl Briones doesn't just cook—he tells stories through food. With two decades in the industry, from food trucks to fine dining, he's carved out a space where history, culture, and flavour collide. A former anthropology student turned chef, Earl takes a deep dive into culinary traditions, bringing the past to life on the plate.

As the Executive Chef of Coterie Wine Bar, he leads with a bold, ingredient-driven approach, creating dishes that are as thought-provoking as they are delicious. His dinner series, Rice & Mysticism, has traveled across three cities in Canada, redefining Filipino cuisine with pre-colonial techniques and a touch of fine dining magic. This passion for food and storytelling has earned him multiple awards and recognition, including being selected as a Featured Creator in The Filipino in Me – Insights into Living Heritage Gallery by the Philippine Arts Council.

Beyond the kitchen, Earl is a multi-published food writer and the inaugural Food & Drinks Editor of Kapwa – The Filipino Magazine. He's also appeared on Fire Masters (Food Network), proving he can bring the heat both literally and figuratively. But his work isn't just about accolades—it's about impact. Earl proudly supports Make-A-Wish Foundation, using his skills to create unforgettable experiences for youth across Canada.

With a career built on curiosity, community, and damn good food, Earl Briones isn't just making meals—he's making history.

Alberta on the Plate showcases the incredible bounty that is grown and produced across our beautiful province. Throughout the year, we celebrate and share the Alberta food story by introducing you to the people and businesses that grow, raise, create, and support the agri-food industry in Alberta. Every August during Alberta Local Food Week, Alberta on the Plate hosts a ten-day, province-wide dine around festival. Get more info at:

There are many different ways to begin the planning ahead conversation. For some families, it might be a casual conversation over dinner or a family gathering. For other families, a formal meeting might be better suited.

Benefits of Pre-Planning

- Peace of mind - Pre-planning takes the burden of making important decisions off your loved ones during a difficult time.
- Longevity - Pre-planning your funeral will make certain that your choices are respected and carried out, without leaving your family to wonder what your wishes may have been.
