Morning Giggle

A newly married sailor was informed by the Navy that he was going to be stationed a long way from home on a remote island in the Pacific for a year. A few weeks after he got there, he began to miss his new wife, so he wrote her a letter. "My love," he wrote, "we are going to be apart for a very long time. Already I'm starting to miss you, and there's really not much to do here in the evenings. Besides that, we're constantly surrounded by young, attractive native girls. Do you think if I had a hobby of some kind, I would not be tempted?"

So his wife sent him back a harmonica, saying, "Why don't you learn to play this?"

Eventually, his tour of duty came to an end, and he rushed back to his wife. "Darling," he said, "I can't wait to get you into bed so that we make passionate love!"

"First, let's see you play that harmonica!"

This is the easiest way to cook eggplant

Elizabeth Licata, TheKitchn.com

Cooking eggplant is quite easy and works in a million different ways: grilled eggplant, roasted eggplant cubes, stir-fried eggplant, and stuffed eggplant, to name a few.

But whenever fall rolls around I find myself consumed by an abiding drive to cook everything in the oven. And baked eggplant is one of the best and easiest things to do!

Why you'll love it

This method is incredibly easy. With very little prep (and no peeling!), you're rewarded with tender eggplant that you can use for any dish.

It's so versatile. Baked eggplant is a delicious side dish with roasted chicken or seared steak. Or scoop it out for baba ganoush or a hearty pasta sauce.

Types of eggplant for baked eggplant

Globe eggplant: You'll need two medium eggplants or 1 large eggplant. If you're using one large globe eggplant, it may be necessary to salt it before roasting. After scoring the eggplant, simply sprinkle it liberally with kosher salt and let stand for 30 to 60 minutes. Then rinse off the salt, give it a firm squeeze to get rid of any excess juices, and pat dry with a paper towel.

Japanese eggplant: If you're using a long, skinny, Japanese eggplant, it is not necessary to score or salt it. Just cut it in half and pop it in the oven.

What to make with baked eggplant

Baba ghanoush: Scoop out the eggplant and make this smooth and creamy dip.

Stuffed eggplant Parmesan: A spin on classic eggplant Parmesan, stuffed into a hollowed-out eggplant shell and topped with melted mozzarella.

Roasted eggplant sabich bowl: A hummus bowl topped with roasted eggplant, tomato-cucumber salad, tahini sauce, and jammy eggs.

Eggplant Parm pesto: Roasted eggplant is blended with a garlic-oregano-and-tomato paste olive oil, then blitzed with fresh basil and lots of Parmesan.

Baked Eggplant (Serves 2 to 4)

2 medium eggplants or one large globe eggplant

Olive oil

Kosher salt

Freshly ground black pepper

1. Preheat oven to 400 F.

2. Cut the stem end and bottom off two medium eggplants or one large globe eggplant, then cut it in half lengthwise. Score the flesh with a knife, cutting deep into the flesh but not through the skin. Cut diagonal lines going about an inch apart, then turn the eggplant around and cut again so you have a diamond pattern.

3. Brush the eggplant flesh with a bit of olive oil and put it face-down on a baking sheet.

4. Bake for 35 to 40 minutes, or until the back of the eggplant looks collapsed and puckered.

5. Let the eggplant cool for 10 minutes, then season with salt and pepper. It can be scooped out of the peel for use in dips, or eaten plain with its antioxidant-rich peel and a sprinkle of lemon juice.

Serving all families like our own for over 115 years

Funeral Director - Bart Orr

Bart Orr started with Bugar Funeral Home after the loss of his father James Orr to ALS in the fall of 2009. John Person and Cam Parker recognized something unique in Bart during the arrangements while planning for his dad's funeral. A few months following James' service they asked him if he would consider joining them at Bugar Funeral Home and become a funeral director. After owning and operating his own electrical business in the Camrose, Bawlf, Rosalind and Daysland areas for many years, he welcomed the opportunity, as well as, the honor to become a funeral director with Bugar Funeral Home. As with many of the families we serve, Bart's family has been served over multiple generations with compassion by Bugar Funeral Home.

Bart and Karen have three children Hayley, Jilisse, and Bobby who are active in sports, their community, and the St Francis Xavier parish in Camrose.

The son of James and Connie (Wolbeck) Orr, Bart grew up on a farm south of Bawlf, where he completed his schooling. After high school he was off to Lethbridge University and then to Edmonton and Sherwood Park for his electrical apprenticeship. He then returned back home, where his heart had always been, to start his electrical business serving the people in the communities he knew and loved.

It was back home at Bawlf where Bart met his wife, Jim and Rita (Yuha) McTavish's daughter, Karen. Karen has been a dental hygienist in Camrose for nearly 20 years.

Bart is very proud of the history of service that Bugar Funeral Home has been known for since 1906. Serving our community and its families is his passion. Bart continues to build on the longstanding reputation of excellence, that is what makes up our past, and continually strives to maintain that same level of service, by himself and his staff, long into the future.
